UP NEXT, February 1st Meeting

Our February 1st meeting features guest speakers Louis Aulbach and Linda Gorski. They will speak on historic artifacts found during the recent Kellum-Noble House restoration located in Sam Houston Heritage Park in downtown Houston.

The Kellum-Noble House is the oldest brick house in Houston. Built by Nathaniel Kellum in 1847, Kellum operated a brick kiln, tannery and saw mill on the property. Standing on its original foundation, it retains its original brick walls made with mud from Buffalo Bayou. Mrs. Zerviah M. Noble operated one of Houston's first private schools there in the 1850's. In 1899, the City of Houston purchased it as partial property for Houston's first city park. Interestingly, for a short time, its grounds were the site of Houston's first zoo.

In 1954, interested citizens organized the Heritage Society to save the house from destruction. Kellum-Noble is the only house in the Sam Houston Heritage Park on its original site.

Artifacts found during restoration.

Linda Gorski is a researcher and writer whose byline appears in publications worldwide. She was a correspondent for the Houston Chronicle. Her lifelong interest in archaeology and history has led her to become an avocational archaeologist for 39 years. She is President of the Houston Archaeological Society. Linda loves canoeing Texas rivers; her favorite place in the world is anywhere west of the Pecos.

Native Houstonian Louis Aulbach is a graduate of Rice University and the University of Chicago. He retired after 17+ years as Records Management Officer for the City of Houston. Aulbach is an expert on Houston's history and author of several historical guides. He writes and publishes paddling guidebooks for the Rio Grande, the Devils River and the Pecos River in West Texas. Local history selections include two volumes on the history of Houston:

Buffalo Bayou, An Echo of Houston's Wilderness Beginnings, and Camp Logan. Houston. Texas 1917-1919.

From the President

Dear Daughters,

What a way to start the New Year with record breaking freezing temperatures! As you know, unfortunately, the January chapter meeting was cancelled due to the bone chilling weather and the fact that the Log House is without heat. That, along with air conditioning, are issues we are diligently working to correct.

There is much going on in 2018. Chase Untermeyer, our speaker for January, will hopefully be rescheduled for next year. Our speakers for February, Louis Aulbach and Linda Gorski, will speak on the historic artifacts found during the recent Kellum Noble House Restoration and please make plans to attend our field trip on March 1st to Sam Houston Heritage Park.

While making your New Year's resolutions, please consider stepping up and volunteering to serve your San Jacinto Chapter. As is said, "Many hands make light work". If everyone volunteers a little time, so much more can be accomplished. Please look through your yearbook, see where your talents can help to support your Chapter.

Happy New Year! I hope to see you at our February 1st meeting. Laura-Hill Taylor, President

Due to frigid weather and lack of heating in the Log House,
January meetings were cancelled.

Iris Beds

Our Iris beds are declining. We have bare patches where there were thick iris beds. We are investigating why this is happening. At this time, we plan to replant the beds -- digging up the bulbs, tilling and replenishing the soil, and replanting. Our Log House was high and dry during HARVEY; yet the surrounding grounds were underwater. If a member has special knowledge about bulbs, particularly iris bulbs, please call Sharolyn Wood.

EAGLE SCOUT PROJECT

The Eagle Scout project is being done by Kendall Barnes. His birthday is in March and he must complete this project before then, so he is highly motivated. He is with Troop 55 at St. John the Divine. He has already cut the cedar posts, which are at the Log House. It should be completed fairly soon.

RECIPE CORNER

Our members share their yummy Texas recipes.

Ingredients: Crust

1 cup all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon table salt
1 stick cold unsalted butter, cut into ½-inch cubes
2 tablespoons ice water

Ingredients: Filling

1½ cups sugar
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons grated nutmeg
½ teaspoon kosher salt
3 large eggs, at room temp
5 tablespoons unsalted butter,
melted and cooled
1 cup buttermilk, at room temp

1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

1 tablespoon dark rum

Directions:

Step 1, Make the Crust In a medium bowl, whisk the flour with the sugar and salt. Add the butter and, using your fingertips, rub it into the flour until the mixture resembles coarse meal with some pea-size pieces remaining. Stir in the ice water just until the dough comes together. Form dough into a ball, then flatten it into a 1-inch-thick disk. Wrap in plastic and refrigerate until firm, at least 1 hour or up to 1 day.

Step 2. On a lightly floured work surface, using a lightly floured rolling pin, roll out the dough to a 12-inch round. Ease the dough into a 9-inch pie plate and tuck any overhang under itself. Crimp decoratively. Freeze until firm, about 30 minutes.

Step 3. Preheat oven to 425°. Line the dough with parchment paper, then fill with pie weights or dried beans. Bake for about 25 minutes, just until the dough is set. Remove the parchment paper and weights; bake for 8 to 10 minutes longer, until light golden. Transfer the crust to a rack to cool slightly, about 10 minutes. Reduce oven to 375°.

Step 4, Make the Filling. In a large bowl, whisk the sugar with the flour, nutmeg and salt. Whisk in the eggs 1 at a time. While whisking constantly, slowly drizzle in melted butter followed by the buttermilk, rum and vanilla. Pour the filling into the warm crust. Bake for 15 minutes, then reduce the oven temperature to 350° and bake for about 40 minutes longer, until the custard is just set at the edge and slightly jiggly in the center. Transfer the pie to a rack and let cool completely. Serve at room temperature or chilled.

Make Ahead. The pie can be refrigerated overnight.
